1. Preparing for your arrival

Entry formalities and work regulations

Entry conditions for a stay in the Czech Republic depend upon your nationality, the purpose of your stay and the duration of your stay. All entry formalities are detailed on the webpages of the Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic: www.mvcr.cz/mvcren/article/immigration.aspx

European Union (EU), European Economic Area (EEA) and Switzerland citizens

You do not need any visa or special permit to travel, live, and work in the Czech Republic. You only need a valid passport or national ID card.

Citizens of other countries

Obtaining a visa or residence permit is one of the most important steps of the preparation of your stay in the Czech Republic. You will have to go to the local Czech embassy or consulate abroad and submit your visa/residence permit application. These applications cannot be submitted being inside the Czech Republic.

Short-term stay – Up to 90 days:

You will require a short-term "Schengen visa" for a stay of up to 90 days. This visa authorises you to stay in the Czech Republic (and all other Schengen States) for the period of time specified in the visa, however not for more than three months.

Long-term stay – Longer than 90 days:

Researchers

If you are employed at USB to carry out scientific or academic research, you have to apply for a long-term residence permit for the purpose of scientific research (also called “scientific permit”). This special residence permit for researchers has several advantages: The application is processed faster than other visas, within 60 days. Also, as a holder of a scientific permit, you will not need any extra work permit.

During the application, you will need to submit several documents. USB, as an employer, can provide you with the “hosting agreement” and the “written commitment”.

Another advantage of this specific scientific permit, is that you do not need to provide a proof of accommodation during the application. Anyway, it is highly recommended to arrange your accommodation and get the accommodation contract well in advance. The proof of accommodation will be requested during the collection of the residence permit after your arrival. USB can also provide you with an accommodation contract at USB dormitories.
Once your application has been approved, you will receive a visa for the purpose of collecting a residence permit (D/VR visa). This visa allows you to enter the Czech Republic, it is issued for a maximum of 60 days. After entering the Czech Republic, it is necessary to report to an office of the Ministry of the Interior within 3 days. See section “First steps after arrival” page 21.

Submission of the application for long-term residence permit or its prolongation is charged with administrative fees. The fee is divided into two parts: 1500 CZK during the submission of the application and 1000 CZK for issuing the permit. See also here: www.mvcr.cz/mvcren/article/third-country-nationals-fees.aspx

Other purposes

If you are not employed as a researcher, you will need to apply for an “employee card”, which is a permit to stay for the purpose of employment on a long-term basis and to perform work for which the card was issued. More information: www.mvcr.cz/mvcren/article/employee-card-682810

Family members

Once you are issued with a residence permit, your family members (husband, spouse, partner, children...) can apply for a long-term residence permit for the purpose of “family reunification”.

General recommendations

If you are a holder of a residence permit or a long-term visa issued by another Schengen state, you may stay in the territory of the Czech Republic without a visa only for a short-term stay not exceeding 90 days. It is necessary to think about the length of your stay before entering the Czech Republic.

Citizens of some countries are exempt from visa obligation for entering the Czech Republic. Attention: this visa free regime applies only to short-term stays up to 90 days of non-profit nature.

The regulations for obtaining visas can change from time to time. In addition, embassies in individual countries are given a certain leeway in applying them. This means that the regulations listed here should be considered as guidelines only. Always you have to consult the local Czech embassy/consulate for the latest information regarding visa requirements, and the particular local requirements that are in force.
Health insurance

Public health insurance

As an employee, you will be automatically covered by the public health insurance for the duration of your employment. USB as the employer informs the health insurance company about the commencement (and termination) of your employment and pays regular insurance premiums. The health insurance company will issue you a health insurance card.

There are two types of cards:
- Blue card for EU citizens – valid in all EU countries
- Green card for non EU citizens – valid only in the Czech Republic

Public health insurance in the Czech Republic is provided by several insurance companies, which are identified by the name and a numerical identification code. The most common and the largest is 111 Všeobecná zdravotní pojišťovna ČR (VZP ČR).

As an EU citizen, or if you were previously employed in another EU country, you may be requested to submit the form E104/S041 – Certificate of insurance period. Make sure to check at the health insurance organisation in your home country before departure.

Commercial health insurance

When you first arrive to the Czech Republic, until you are registered for public health insurance, or employed, you must have an alternative travel health insurance:

- EU citizens can provide their European Health Insurance Card EHIC
- Other citizens must get commercial health insurance

You will have to submit proof of commercial health insurance to the Embassy before getting your visa.

Also, anyone who does not have the right to public health insurance in the Czech Republic must have commercial health insurance while staying in this country (i.e. family members).

Short-term stays – Basic medical insurance

It covers essential treatment and hospitalization which cannot be postponed, at any public health care facility in the Czech Republic.

Long-term stays – Comprehensive medical insurance

It is suitable for foreigners who intend to stay in the Czech Republic for 90 days or longer and are not covered by the public health insurance system. This health insurance for foreigners is similar to public health insurance. It provides preventive and dispensary health care, including care in connection with pregnancy and childbirth.

There are several Czech insurance companies that provide the right type of insurance specifically designed for the needs of foreigners: SLAVIA, MAXIMA, UNIQA, VZP, ERGO, SWISSCARE.

Use the Health insurance calculator to compare the different offers: http://infocizinci.cz/en/health-insurance-calculator/
Short-term accommodation

It may be very difficult to find a long-term accommodation while being abroad. Anyway, it is strongly recommended that you arrange short-term accommodation in advance at least for the first 1–2 months of your stay at USB. You can then use the time to find a longer term rental. See section “Finding long-term accommodation” page 41.

Also you will need to submit to the Embassy proof of accommodation during the visa application, or to get your residence permit. This document can be provided by USB dormitories only for future employees (not for family members).

Accommodation at university dormitories (univerzitní koleje)

More information: www.kam.jcu.cz

As an employee, you can get accommodated at the university dormitories. This is usually the easiest possibility, especially for those who need proof of accommodation for the visa application.

Attention! Proof of accommodation can be furnished only for a student or an employee of USB. It cannot be furnished for a family member!

There are 5 dormitory buildings (koleje): K1–K5

Four dormitories (K1–K4) are located directly in the main university campus. Dormitory K5 is located about 15 minutes’ walk away from the main campus, just next to the building of the Faculty of Health and Social Sciences.

Dormitories provide single, double or triple rooms. Kitchenette and bathrooms may be shared for the whole floor or just for several rooms, depending on the dormitory.

Services at dormitories

- laundry room
- elevator
- possibility to borrow small appliances and household equipment
- internet connection available by network cable (you will need your own cable!)
- reception 24/7 during the academic year
Price and payment

- The price varies from 2500 to 4200 CZK per month, depending on the dormitory and type of room you stay in.
- You can pay in cash (Czech crowns) or by card on arrival.

Accommodation at USB faculties

Some faculties have also their own rooms or apartments that they can provide to their visitors or employees, especially for the beginning of their stays. In that case, the faculty may be able to provide you the proof of accommodation.

Private accommodation

In case you do not need the proof of accommodation for the visa/residence permit, you can also find various alternative accommodation providers in České Budějovice. There are for example some private dormitories that you can find by searching on the internet the key words „kolej“ (=dormitory) or „ubytovna“ (=hostel).

Transport in the Czech Republic

Travelling by car

Travelling by car in the Czech Republic is very convenient. To get to the South Bohemian Region from Prague, you can drive via Tábor, or via Písek, which is more convenient if you want to go to Vodňany.

Driving licence regulations:

- If your driving license is issued by an EU country or Norway, Iceland, Switzerland or Liechtenstein: you can drive in the Czech Republic, there is no obligation to replace your driving licence.
- If your driving license is issued by another country, you may need to acquire an International driving licence to be allowed to drive in the Czech Republic. Check your specific situation here: www.mvcr.cz/mvcren/article/is-my-license-valid-in-the-cr-may-i-do-i-have-to-replace-it-with-a-czech-driving-license.aspx

Be aware that there is no tolerance of alcohol while driving: you must have a zero blood alcohol level when driving!
Public transport in the Czech Republic

Czech Republic has a dense network of public transport (trains, buses, city buses). To check the timetable and connections of all public transport in the Czech Republic, you can use the website www.idos.cz. When travelling around the country, be sure to have enough cash (Czech crowns) with you, because it is not always possible to pay by card, and it is not possible to use euros or other foreign currency.

Bank services

Money exchange and ATMs
In the Czech Republic, you will not be able to pay with currency other than Czech crowns.
To exchange money, you have several possibilities:

- Banks charge 2-3% commission for cash exchange; sometimes, there is a minimum fee. Banks are generally open Mon-Fri: 8:00 – 17:00.
- Private exchange offices are often in shopping centres and also on the main square Přemysla Otakara II. They are usually open also during the weekends. It is recommended to ask the exact sum you will receive for your money: the sign advertising 0% commission often relates to buying foreign currency! Also the currency rate may not be the best.

ATMs are situated all over the city and usually accept all major credit and debit cards (Visa, Mastercard, Maestro...). One ATM is situated on campus, on the outside of the Rectorate building. Besides, you can pay by card in most of the shops and restaurants without any minimum amount required. However, smaller town restaurants and shops prefer cash payments.

Bank account

As an USB employee, you will need to open a Czech bank account in order to receive your salary. You can choose from several banks, which provide a wide range of services and facilities to their customers. In general, relating formalities are quite simple. To open a bank account, you will generally need a valid passport, another identity document (your driver’s license, identity card, birth certificate, resident card) and a minimum deposit (between 200 CZK and 2 000 CZK, depending on the bank).

Good to know: the majority of services provided by the Czech banks are paid. Thus, anything from obtaining a debit card to ATM withdrawals will typically incur a fee.

Finding long-term accommodation

University dormitories

If you are satisfied with living at the university dormitories, you are entitled to stay there during the length of your employment at the university.

Anyway, usually, after some time employees search for their own place to live. There are different possibilities.

Renting a room: Flat-sharing

There are several websites and Facebook groups with accommodation offers. Try for example to search on these ones:

- Facebook group Spolubydlení ČB: www.facebook.com/groups/234631556716962
- Facebook group Bydlení České Budějovice: www.facebook.com/groups/BydleniCeskeBudejovice

Good to know: You will find many offers of room-sharing, which is a common practice especially among students. If you want your own room, search in Czech "samostatný pokoj".
Renting a flat

Flats in the Czech Republic have some specifics and it may be hard to understand the flats’ description in the announcements. Here is a short overview:

1+1, 2+1, 3+1, 4+1 …

The first number means how many rooms there are in the flat in total. It includes both the bedrooms and the living rooms. The second number after the plus, usually “+1” indicates the number of kitchens. It is common for Czech flats and houses to have only one kitchen, but you might come across big houses that have more.

1+kk, 2+kk, 3+kk, 4+kk,…

In that description, “kk” stands for kuchyňský kout (kitchen corner). That means that the kitchen is not a separate room and the whole cooking area is placed in one of the rooms, usually the living room, sometimes in the corridor. Thus a 1+kk flat or also called “garsoniéra” is a studio.

When looking for a flat, be sure to always visit the place before renting, and ask about even small details. The description in the announcement may be disappointing. Also remember that most of the flats are rented unfurnished, even if in certain cases this is negotiable with the flat owner.

There are many real estate agents in České Budějovice that can speak English and help you, but be prepared, that they may charge a fee for their services. You can search some offers in English at: www.sreality.cz/en

Services for families, schools

In the Czech Republic, most of children stay at home with one of their parents until the age of three.

Anyway, there are also possibilities for working parents. In České Budějovice, there are 3 public kindergarten (jesle) for children from 6 months age till 3. After 3 years old, most children visit preschool (mateřská škola) that can be public or private.

USB employees can also benefit from the two children’s groups run on campus:

Children’s group “Kvítek”

It can care of children from the age of one till 7 years old and functions from 7:00 till 17:00. More information: www.jcu.cz/about-the-university/facilities-and-services/children-group-kvitek

Children’s group “Butterfly” (“Motýl”)

It is mainly intended for children whose parents are employed at the Biology Centre or at the Faculty of Science. It receives children from the age of one until the beginning of the school age (around 6). More information: www.prf.jcu.cz/struktura-prf/detske-skupiny-na-ju.html. Rules of the nursery and application form are available at the bottom of the page.
Compulsory school attendance

In the Czech Republic, school attendance is compulsory for nine years, usually beginning from the 6th birthday of the child. The last year of preschool education is also compulsory. This obligation applies also to foreigners who reside in the Czech Republic permanently for a period longer than 90 days. School year runs from 1st September till 30th June. Usually during March you can register your child for the next school year in one of the 17 public elementary schools in České Budějovice. The school have to take into account the specific needs of your child if he/she does not speak Czech and will try to integrate him/her in the best way.

For those who prefer education in English, there is an international private school situated in Hluboká nad Vltavou, just 10 km north of České Budějovice: www.townshend.cz

Internet and mobile phones network

Soon after your arrival, you will probably need to get a Czech phone number. You may choose between one of the three main operators: Vodafone, T-Mobile and O2. Since a few years many other mobile virtual network operators such as Coop mobile, Tesco mobile, OpenCall and Sazka mobile also sell some prepaid cards. You can get one of these prepaid cards with a credit which is the easiest way if you bring an unblocked cell phone. You can also decide to get a monthly tariff which is suitable for a longer stay in the Czech Republic. As an USB employee you can benefit from an advantageous tariff at the operator T-Mobile.

General practitioner and doctor registration

With your health insurance you are entitled to visit a general practitioner. Anyway, it is important to first arrange an appointment by phone, to be sure that the doctor has the time to see you. Ask a Czech speaking person to help you.

In case you are in the Czech Republic for a long term, you should first register with a general practitioner, where you will first have a general check-up visit. Then you will be able to visit this doctor in case of need. To register, first contact the doctor by phone. Some doctors cannot register patient because they do not have capacity anymore. But in the end you will always find a doctor that you can register with. You should also register with a dentist, and if necessary with a gynaecologist and a children’s doctor.
